

Summer School
Calendar

Date	Morning	Afternoon
5.9	G.G. Balandi and A. Topo – Introduction Brian Langille – The problem – General theme: how we think about labour law, and, as a result, the multinational enterprise’s role)	Three presentations of PhD Dissertation Project Discussion inside the groups
6.9	Barbara Kresal – Workers as one of the stakeholders of the MEs: human rights perspective on labour relations Janice Bellace – CSR, corporate codes of conduct, and supplier responsibilities	Two presentations of PhD Dissertation Project Discussion inside the groups
7.9	Janice Bellace – Labour clauses in free trade agreements Ferran Camas Roda – Multinational enterprises faced with global migratory movements: facilitation or obstruction of international labour mobility?	Two presentations of PhD Dissertation Project Discussion inside the groups
8.9	Barbara Kresal – Transnational collective agreements: parties, content, enforcement Three presentations of PhD Dissertation Project	Two presentations of PhD Dissertation Project Discussion inside the groups
9.9	European Law Institute
12.9	Ferran Camas Roda – Multinational enterprises and the promotion of decent employment inspired by the International Labour Organization: special attention to the access to employment, training and working conditions Three presentations of PhD Dissertation Project	Two presentations of PhD Dissertation Project Discussion inside the groups
13.9	Brian Langille - A way out. How can we liberate our thinking about	Discussion inside the groups

	labour law to allow effective application of the real values and purposes at stake? Three presentations of PhD Dissertation Project
14.9	Presentation of the reports of the groups and final discussion
15.9	Departure	